COOKIES POLICY

Use of Cookies Policy

Both our website and platform use very few cookies and normally do so for convenience sake, such as remembering the language you have chosen as your preferred language for using our platform. When you access either, you will be asked to give your consent to our use of cookies by clicking on a consent box, and if you give your consent then certain non-personally identifying information will be automatically logged. This information may include your operating system, screen settings, web browser software, and referring website. This data is used for system improvement and administration, security, statistical analysis purposes, and business purposes in general, and in compliance with the Brazilian General Data Protection Law (LGPD) or Law nº 13.709, implemented on 14 August 2018, as well as with GDPR and CCPA.

For a detailed list of cookies used by either our website or our platform, please write to info@prepona.com.
